When Jan was a kid he and my brother, Robert Shearer, were the best of friends! While in high school, Jan spent many a day in our home. There were times we were snowed in and my mom wouldn't let him drive home. Then there were the crazy sled rides down our hill. We used to play pinochle for hours with mom and dad. Even at that awkward teenage times, he was kind and gentle. I have such good memories of him. Linda, I can only imagine your pain. My his soul be at rest. God bless

Jan was a decent guy and a character in a fun sort of way. Not many leads would be willing to keep a working cattle prod in their file cabinet these days but for Jan it was always worth the laugh. I believe he quite enjoyed wielding the device when the occasion arose. Special effects are important. Jan was quick to go to bat for his people when the need arose. On one occasion, I was in trouble with some people who know a lot more about paper work than I do. Jan stepped up immediately and tried to take responsibility. Like I said, a decent guy. A good man.

I didn't know Jan very well being I was mostly on different shifts than him at Horizon Air, but when we crossed paths it was usually a fish feast he would put on for his crew. He was always kind and generous to include me. He will be truly missed.
